

Motherhood
Becoming a Heart Shaping Mother

Sally Clarkson

“Motherhood is passing on to the next generation the stewardship of the gospel.”

~Sally

Where are your children going to learn unconditional love if they don't see you being unconditionally loving to people who don't deserve it? Who is difficult for you to show love to? Who can you show love to today?

A mother shapes through relationship.

A mother shapes through influence and truth.

A mother shapes through culture.

What circumstances are you facing in which you need to decide to live your story well?
