

Motherhood
Winter - A Season of Reflection

Sally Clarkson

Winter is a time in which everything appears dead. If you are in a winter season of life, pray and ask the Lord to reveal to you where He is working and where He is causing your roots to grow deep.

What storms have you been through in the past that you can now look back and see God's faithful hand working?

Is there anything you are currently holding onto rather than holding onto God?

Review some of the following verses and ponder how Christ is leading you, even if everything around you appears dead.

Isaiah 30:15; Psalm 37:7; Lam. 3:21-27; Psalm 46:10; Hebrews 11:1; Is. 50:10-11; Psalm 22; 1 John 1:5; Heb. 6:10, 19-20; John 11:23-24

In every situation, I will hope in the power of Spring.
